

You may not expect much from diving in the lake constance, but if you look close enough you will often find beautiful motives like this Quagga musel (Dreissena bugenis) on a ship wreck.

Also when you are calm and patient, you may even encounter a Northern pike (Esox lucius). But they are often gone as soon as you exhale and bubble come out of your mouth.